Download ITZANES electronic material full version Full Sound Download Link [Release] FlexiSIGN-PRO.Q: InDesign: create and manage page numbers with code? I am looking for a way to create and manage pages numbering and its increments in an InDesign document using code? I want to be able to track the current and the previous page number, in order to set the last printed number for some labels. I have tried looking at the InDesign API but didn't find anything useful. Thanks for your help! A: You can use the method getPageLinks to get an array of the pages in the document; and then use the pageNumber property of the Paragraph (if available) to know the current page. For example, it's super easy to get the current page: var pageNum = doc.PageNum; You can also get the previous page in the same manner: var prevPage = doc.PageLinks.Last(); Liversteat hepatic veno-occlusive disease with acute vascular occlusion and therapeutic efficacy of spontaneous partial reperfusion. Hepatic veno-occlusive disease (VOD) is a rare disease, a result of hepatic ischemia following exposure to total-body irradiation (TBI). The pathophysiology of hepatic VOD involves combined abnormalities of hepatic microcirculation and cellular metabolism. In the present study, we describe a patient with hepatic VOD who received TBI at a total dose of 12 Gy for acute promyelocytic leukemia. She developed massive ascites and was reported to have died of liver failure. However, the clinical course proved to be complicated by the sudden onset of severe and life-threatening acute vascular occlusion of the portal triad. The patient developed circulatory insufficiency in the left lobe of the liver and then, gradually, in the entire liver. Despite severe anemia, his condition improved after administration of hemoderivatives. Morphologic examination of the liver tissue showed cholestasis with intralobular and sinusoidal dilatation, which led to congestion of the portal venule and many thrombi in the lumen. In addition, focal necrosis of hepatocytes was observed in the terminal hepatic lobules and partly in the periportal area. However, after arterial blood transfusion, the portal vein thrombus was partially reper
